We are building a digital monument to the victims of Nazism
Come and join us!

Prof. Monika Grütters, Minister of State for Culture and the Media, is patron of #everynamecounts since 2021
Remembering the victims of National Socialism is important. Because their stories show us what discrimination, racism and antisemitism lead to.
The motives for persecution enforced by the Nazis are still prevalent

Selma Grünwald, Jewish women's rights activist, detained in Ravensbrück concentration camp

Johann Herak, Sinto, detained in Auschwitz and Buchenwald concentration camp

Iwan Lutschka, Soviet forced laborer, detained in Buchenwald concentration camp
An initiative of the Arolsen Archives – The aim is to build a digital monument to the victims of Nazi persecution. Now and for future generations. We hope that many tens of thousands of people from all over the world will join in and take a stand – for respect, diversity, and solidarity.

#everynamecounts
Digital Remembrance as a Crowdsourcing Event

The Arolsen Archives are building this digital monument with the help of thousands of volunteers who are digitizing the names and the life stories of victims and survivors of National Socialism.
Anyone can help to enter data from the scanned documents.
Every name is a pebble to make a memorial.
Every name deserves a kind, sorrowful thought.

A quote from one of our volunteers
4 steps, 5 minutes
Let’s get started!

1. Open
   Use this link to open the #everynamecounts project page: aroa.to/joinin

2. Classify
   Click Classify or choose documents to work on under Get started

3. Inform
   Read the helpful hints for working with our archival documents or use the digital introduction

4. Get started!
   You’re ready to go!
Why is #everydbnamecounts important?

We are building this monument because history should not be faceless. Because history is not just a thing of the past, it has consequences for society today.
Young people who have no personal connection to the Holocaust are grateful for this opportunity to make a personal and lasting contribution to such a meaningful initiative.

Floriane Azoulay Director of the Arolsen Archives
Milestones of #everynamecounts February 2021

17,000 registered volunteers

3.5 million documents have already been indexed

91,000 messages have been exchanged within the community
How can you help...?
...as institution or company:
aroa.to/enc-partner-en

Share our campaign on social media and call on your followers to join in.

Organize campaign days and work on the documents together with your staff.

Tell your network all about the project and encourage them to get involved. We will provide you with info materials.

Send us a video or a message telling us why you are supporting this project.

Use your newsletters, your mailing lists, your website etc. so we can find as many helpers as possible.

Please support our work by making a donation to #everynamecounts.

Arolsen Archives
...as private person:
aroa.to/everyname

Join the project yourself and record the data of the victims of Nazi persecution.

Share the campaign on your social media, your websites and your blogs.

Tell your family and friends about #everynamecounts and encourage them to get involved.

Send us a video or a message telling us why you are supporting this project.

Please support our work by making a donation to #everynamecounts.
...as school Educational institution:
aroa.to/everyname

Join #everynamecounts and work on the documents together with your students.

Share the campaign on your Social Media and your websites.

Tell your network all about the project and encourage them to get involved. We will provide you with info materials.

Send us a video or a message telling us why you are supporting this project.

Arolsen Archives
Five reasons to support us:

1. Help build a pioneering digital monument to all the victims of Nazi persecution.

2. Take an active stand against hatred, discrimination, and racism. Because the root causes of persecution still exist today.

3. Be part of an international project that transcends national borders, brings people together, and provides an innovative opportunity for civic engagement.

4. Encourage young people all over the world to get involved in remembrance and join in. Now available in five languages: English, German, French, Polish, Spanish.

5. Keep knowledge of Nazi persecution alive, and build bridges to the present.
We are building a digital monument.
Come and join us!
Become part of #everynamecounts!
We are looking forward to telling you how!

Christine Rutke und Anna Meier-Osiński
E: enc@arolsen-archives.org
W: aroa.to/enc-partner-en